

Opioid Maintenance Treatment (OMT) access during COVID-19 outbreak: Information for patients

- Your OMT is an essential medication that you still need to access during the COVID-19 outbreak.
- If you are undertaking routine social distancing and have not been directed by the Government to self-isolate or quarantine during the COVID-19 outbreak, you should continue to access your usual dosing point. You can discuss increasing the number of takeaway doses with your doctor.
- If your situation changes and you are required to self-isolate or quarantine, please speak to your doctor or pharmacist. We have arrangements in place to enable your OMT dose delivery in these special circumstances.
